

Global central banks are buying gold like crazy. Gold's share of global international reserves jumped to 21% in Q3 2024, the highest since the 1990s. The percentage has doubled in just 10 years.

